

Dermatology at the frontier

World skin experts to gather in Darwin

May 16th – 19th 2010

More than 400 Australian and international dermatologists will meet in Darwin for the Annual Scientific Meeting of the Australasian College of Dermatologists which starts on May 16th.

The skin experts will discuss the latest research and information on skin cancer, melanoma, acne and new skin treatments will be presented.

Specific presentations will focus on:

- skin surveillance for melanoma,
- emerging treatments for advanced melanoma,
- new agents for sun protection,
- what's new in acne management,
- the rapidly growing field of cosmeceuticals,
- indigenous skin disease and teledermatology services to remote areas, and
- infections such as syphilis which are on the rise again.

A full copy of the Scientific Meeting's program is available at http://www.dermcoll.asn.au/public/meeting_and_conferences.asp

12 May 2010

NOTE TO EDITORS

Media representatives are welcome to attend sessions; registration can be arranged for accredited media.

MEDIA ENQUIRIES

Dr Cathy Reid
Honorary Secretary
The Australasian College of Dermatologists
(02) 8765 0242

or

Stephanie Childs
S2i Communications
0416 009 035
stephanie@s2i.com.au